

Apply for a Grant or Clinical Placement

Educational Grants

Educational grants of between £100 and £500 per individual are available to healthcare professionals and students. If you are interested in applying for an unrestricted educational grant, please see the criteria below and the details on how to apply.

Grants are available for:

- healthcare students currently undertaking registered training with an NHS health board in Wales and undertaking research on a pregnancy, fetal medicine, women's health or parentcraft related topic; the research topic and any grants made will be discussed and agreed with your NHS Training Supervisor/Head of Midwifery or Clinical Director
- healthcare professionals, currently working in the mainstream NHS in Wales and requesting support for an education or training event related to pregnancy, fetal medicine, women's health or parentcraft
- healthcare professionals, currently working in the mainstream NHS in Wales and undertaking research on a pregnancy, fetal medicine, women's health or parentcraft related topic; the research topic and any grants made will be discussed and agreed with your NHS Head of Department/Clinical Director and included within your Personal Continuing Professional Development Plan

We also welcome applications on topics that explore the wider determinants of maternal and fetal health, such as impact of lifestyle behaviours on birth weight and pregnancy outcomes.

How to Apply for an Educational Grant

Please send us your CV, accompanied by an application letter including the following:

- your current place of study and/or employment and your role
- the name and contact details for your NHS Training Supervisor/Head of Midwifery/ Head of Department/ Clinical Director as appropriate
- your research or study topic, or the title and purpose of your education/training event
- the amount of money you are requesting, when you require it and what it will be used for
- what outcomes will be achieved, both for patients and your own professional development.

Clinical Placements

Clinical placements are routinely available – please telephone us on 0345 230 3386 to discuss.