

ABOUT US

Innermost Learning was set up in 2011 by Dr Bryan Beattie MD FRCOG, inspired by nearly 30 years of NHS and private practice in women's healthcare.

As the most senior Consultant in Fetal Medicine in Wales and a leading national figure, Dr Beattie is dedicated to promoting safe, quality healthcare for women and is passionate about improving education for healthcare professionals and patients.

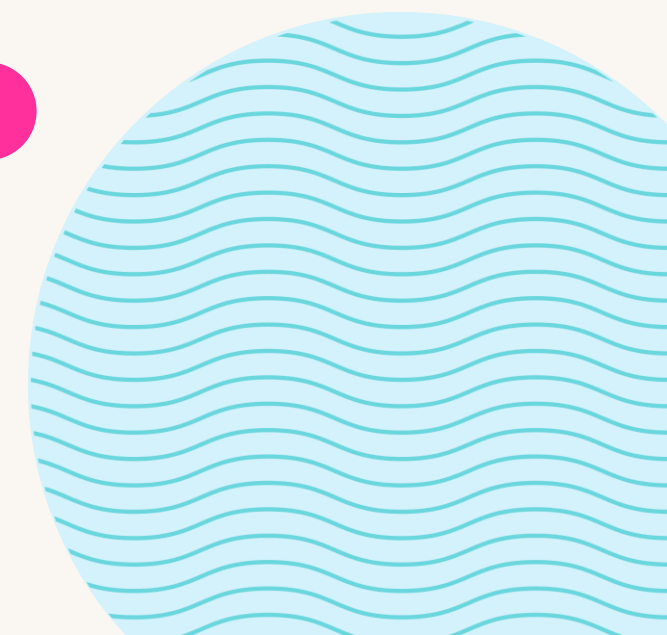

Dr Beattie qualified in 1983 from Queen's University Belfast. Over the years, he has witnessed many changes in the approach to women's health and pregnancy care, some of which he welcomes and others which cause him concern. He believes in couples being supported in making informed choices about their pregnancy based on safe-and-sound information that allows them to make the right choices for them.

Of most concern to him is the fact that the UK still has one of the highest stillbirth rates in Europe and Dr Beattie is resolute in his aim to address this. He has been involved in a number of national working groups and gave evidence on this topic to the Welsh Government's Health and Social Care Committee. Innermost Learning works to improve education and provide practical support and information for healthcare professionals, students and members of the public.

Contact Us

mail@innermostlearning.com

0345 230 3386 (at the Innermost Clinic)

INNERMOST LEARNING

OUR TRUSTEES

Dr Bryan Beattie (Chairman)

Dr Beattie is an NHS Consultant in Obstetrics and Fetal Medicine, working in the University Hospital of Wales and providing fetal medicine services for most of Wales. He is also the founder, owner and director of a private healthcare company and a recognised medico-legal expert.

Claire Donovan

Claire is a healthcare management professional, having served 17 years in the NHS. She now works as a consultant in the private healthcare sector, providing corporate governance and policy advice and support. In her spare time, Claire is a weekly volunteer with the Riding for the Disabled Association.

Tessa Shellens

A qualified and very highly regarded lawyer, Tessa was formerly a Consultant in Healthcare Law (now retired) and provided advice to the NHS in Wales for many years. She is an experienced trustee and board member and is an active supporter of the Cowbridge Music Festival.

Margaret Donovan

Margaret is a former NHS Medical Secretary and Mental Health Act Administrator, having served nearly 40 years in local hospital services. Now retired, she is a member of the U3A and the local croquet club.

Patricia Vincent

A former teaching assistant working with children with special needs and a school governor, now retired. Patricia is a Committee Member with the Dinas Powys Pony Club and a weekly volunteer with the Riding for the Disabled Association.